

MODART

EASTER has come and passed into oblivion, but it has left us something behind—new strength and hope for the serious things in life, and renewed interest in its enjoyments. Lent has thrown her drab mantle of sackcloth and ashes, and Society in a brand-new frock and bonnet has lunched, dined, consumed tiny cups of tea along with huge packets of the latest gossip, and tripped the light fantastic to her heart's content. Prospective weddings are being discussed, and there are enough to furnish conversation for more than one afternoon, too, and engagements—if they would only tell, there would be such a lot and so interesting!

The week has indeed been a busy one for everyone and expresses the happy, hospitable spirit of the tropics.

College Club Reception

One of the largest and most delightful affairs of the week was the College Club's reception for Dr. Jas. M. Taylor, formerly president of Vassar College, held at the Colonial Hotel Tuesday afternoon. The reception was in the form of a garden party and the beautiful grounds were in festive attire for the occasion. Flags were draped about in profusion, and were very effective among the palm trees and tropical foliage. Hawaiian flags were very much in evidence. One enormous emblem of the former kingdom stretched upon standards of coconut leaves graced the entrance; another decorated the driveway; while smaller ones were conspicuous about the grounds. Large, comfortable wicker chairs were placed about under the trees and over in one corner under an enormous Japanese parasol stood the table bearing the punch-bowl. It was banked in fluffy pepper foliage thickly interspersed with little red berries. All of these things, together with the white and vari-colored gowns of the women, made a very brilliant picture against the green ground. Dr. Taylor, whose home state is bereft of spring from the winter's frost and cold, stood in the receiving line beneath an enormous, spreading tree and looked upon this scene of tropical loveliness. The Kawaihooie girls sang several Hawaiian songs very beautifully, finishing with "Hawaii Ponoi." Then Dr. Taylor gave a short address which was really a plea to the young girl to go to college. He emphasized and enlarged upon the advantages of a college education and urged every girl who could go, feeling assured that she would never regret it. He spoke of the intellectual side of it, and of the wonderful physical training, and "last, but not least," he said, "There's the fun of it!" Indeed, his little talk was very convincing and more than one high school senior there, wavering between finishing school and college, decided on the spot in favor of the college. After Dr. Taylor's address refreshments were served, consisting of strawberry sherbet and cake.

Miss Mildred Yeager, Miss Clara Ziegler and Mrs. Harold Lyon assisted with the refreshments, and Mrs. W. A. Bryan presided over the punch-bowl. In the receiving line were Mrs. Arthur Alexander, Dr. James M. Taylor, Mrs. W. R. Farrington, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Wilbur J. MacNeil and Mrs. Walter F. Frear.

Those invited to meet Dr. Taylor were Mr. and Mrs. Robbins Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ashford, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Babbitt, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. T. Bottomley, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Brown, Dr. W. T. French, Mrs. Henry Waterhouse and Mrs. Horner.

Mrs. McGrew's Chowder

A real "jolly good time" was enjoyed at Mrs. C. B. Cooper's home at Kalahele on Monday evening when Mrs. Reynolds McGrew entertained at a chowder supper in honor of Miss Myrtle Schuman. After supper a huge bonfire was built and the guests enjoyed themselves by watching "bonfires" and dancing. Those present were the Misses Myrtle Schuman, Marion Chapman, Dorothy Guild, Hazel Buck, and Pauline Schaefer, Margaret Conner, Rose Herbert, Eloise Wichman with a profusion of African dances, inspiring to the dance devotee, music incident hair ferns, and tulle. The fourth course was enjoyed at the home of Miss Betty Woods. The color-scheme for the individual tables was yellow. Masses of yellow nasturtiums were arranged on the center of the table draped and wreathed in a wealth of yellow tulle. The place-cards were most attractive, being the dearest little "kewpies." Miss Rose Herbert was hostess at the last course at the Rathskeller and it must be said that her table was indeed a work of art. Iridescent clouds of tulle of every color hung gracefully from the chandelier, and at the end of every streamer, just above the table, hung a little "kewpie." Three baskets filled with pink roses traced the center of the table, and from cut glass baskets, in among the buds, seemed more inquisitive little "kewpies." Fluffy maidenhair was arranged about the flowers, and all was enveloped in mists of tulle. After the dinner, the young ladies were joined by an equal number of young men, whereupon they journeyed to the Moana and enjoyed dancing during the rest of the evening. Those present at the dance were: The Misses Myrtle Schuman, Beth Woods, Hazel Buckland, Ruth Soper, Marion Chapin, Dorothy Guild, and Pease Herbert; Messrs. Kelly, Henshaw, Ernest Podmore, James Morbrinski, Ernest Purvis, Grey, Zabriniski, Ernest Podmore, James Morbrinski, M. Carson, Charles McWayne and Mr. and Mrs. Reynold McGrew.

Mrs. Moore's Dinner

Mrs. C. B. T. Moore was hostess at a delightful dinner on Thursday evening, given in honor of Gen. Clarence Edwards. The table was beautifully decorated in pink roses and all the many varieties of lilies now in season. The place cards were pretty lit-of an appropriate nature. Among those present were: Miss Betty Case, Miss Alexander, Miss Castle, Miss Marie Holt, Miss Nora Swamy, Miss Rosamund Swamy, Miss Nora Sturges, General Clarence Edwards, Lt. and Mrs. John E. Green, Dr. and Mrs. Day D. Whitman, Mr. and Mrs. Dowsett, Lieut. and Mrs. Jerome G. Pilgrew, Lieut. and Mrs. John D. Rearman, Mr. Albert Horner, Mr. Philip Spaulding, Lieut. William C. Rose, Lieut. Clarence K. Lyman, Lieut. Robert C. F. Goetz and a number of people from Schofield Barracks.

Morning Music Club

The meeting of the Morning Music Club which was to have taken place last week was held on Wednesday in the studio of Miss Margaret E. Clarke at Punahou. Following was the program:

Duet, Lakme, Sous le dome epais, Belles—Mrs. Mackall and Miss Ward.
Symphonie Pathetique, Andante, "Chalkowski"—Miss Stevens and Mrs. Richards.

Trio from Elijah, "Lift Thine Eyes," Mendelssohn—Miss Lindsay, Miss Veight, Mrs. Anderson.

Violin and piano: (a) Sorabande and Tambourin, J. M. Leclair 1697; (b) Serenite, Vieuxtemps; (c) Le Laude Mabel, R. Lenormand; (d) By the Brook, Rolsdoff; (e) Serenade Espagnole, Cesare Geloso and others—Miss Elsie Sherman and Miss Zull.

Chorus, The Gypsies, Brahms—Mrs. Mackall, director, Mrs. Erdman, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Leach, Mrs. Lindsay, Mrs. Richards, Mrs. Underwood, Mrs. Weight, Mrs. Atherton, Mrs. Dowsett, Mrs. Hampton, Mrs. Hunn, Miss McCracken, Miss Damon, Miss Whiting, Miss Robertson, Miss Ward.

The last number on the program was not given, however, and in its place Mrs. Mackall sang a solo. The program was most attractive and interesting and was a small demonstration of the large amount of excellent material there is in Honolulu. Perhaps the most noteworthy thing, however, was the playing of Miss Elsie Sherman, the brilliant violinist from San Francisco. She is a truly wonderful musician, possessing both technique and the spark of genius. Her playing was a treat, and was greatly appreciated by all.

A Night in Roofland

One of the largest social affairs of the week will be "A Night in Roofland," given by the Outdoor Circle at the Young Hotel roof garden on Tuesday evening. Nearly a hundred members of the Smart Set are taking part in the performance and if reports are correct it will be one of the season's greatest successes, socially, financially and theatrically.

Music has been given by everyone. Sonny Cunha has charge of the orchestra, which will furnish the music for the vaudeville and Ernest Kaal, with his glee club, will see that the dancers will have good music.

Much interest is centered in "Jeremiah Pan and His Nymphy Nieces" and in "The Swins Song." James A. Wilder will take the part of Jeremiah Pan and his Nymphy Nieces are among the daintiest maids of the younger set. The "Swins Song," the closing number, will be one of the prettiest numbers on the program. There will be 32 participants in this number alone. Swings have been placed along the two aisles of the roof garden and as the sixteen pretty misses carry the "Swing High, Swing Low," sixteen popular youths will sway them back and forth. The electrical effect for this act will be something out of the ordinary and needless to say the costuming will be exceptional.

Miss Rose Herbert and Vernon Tenney, two of society's cleverest dancers, have consented to do a "tango." Miss Herbert and Mr. Tenney gave a number of exhibitions during the Thes Dancers in February and are considered among Honolulu's best artists of the terpsichorean toe.

Another number sure to please will be "Sympathy." The young ladies who are taking part in this number were members of the Peanut Ballet, in the Mayor of Tokio. The specialties they will give will be something quite new and effective.

Pessie Abbott Howland, the talented singer, will appear a number of times on the program. Mrs. Howland has assisted the ladies in making the preparations for "A Night in Roofland," in fact she has given practically all of the instruction for "The Swins Song" and "Sympathy." Mrs. Howland and Mr. James Dougherty will play the leads in "Sympathy."

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Bolton, two clever professionals, will take a prominent part in "A Night in Roofland." Mrs. Bolton, internationally famous for her wonderful nature-dancing, will be seen during the vaudeville performance and later in the evening will give a number of exhibitions of her dancing.

The following are on the committee for the entertainment: Mrs. Augustus E. Murphy, chairman; Mrs. A. J. Campbell, treasurer; Mrs. A. Gignoux, secretary; Mrs. Carl du Roi and Mrs. H. Schultze, tickets; Mrs. Frederick J. Lowrey, chairman, Outdoor Circle; Mrs. C. von Hamm, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Mrs. A. Lewis, Mrs. Mary Gunn, Mr. James Dougherty, Mr. Jas. Wilder and Mr. Albert Cunha.
Cardroom—Mrs. J. M. Dowsett, Mrs. Armin Haneberg, Mrs. Henry F. Wichman, Mrs. Charles Atherton, Mrs. J. A. Gilman, Mrs. E. M. Watson and Mrs. A. J. Campbell.

Ballroom—Mr. Thode, Mrs. Bolton and Mrs. Abbott Howland.

Honolulu society girl, is planning to depart from these shores on the Wilhelmna next Wednesday for an extended trip through the states and Europe. Miss Schuman expects to remain several days in San Francisco and then go to Detroit, where she will purchase a machine. After spending some time in New York, Miss Schuman will leave for Europe on May 16th, where she will remain eight months or a year.

Miss Schuman is a very popular member of the younger set, all of whom look upon her prospective departure with the keenest regret. Several affairs of the week were complimentary to Miss Schuman. Mrs. Reynolds McGrew entertained at a chowder in her honor on Monday. A number of her friends gave a most delightful progressive dinner for her on Thursday, and Miss Daphne Damon entertained very informally for her yesterday.
